THE NEW DEPARTURE.

Has the Republican party forgotten the kind of enemy with which it has to deal?

Does it know that the Democratic party is responsible for all the bloodshed, cruelty and cost of the late Rebellion? For the savage deeds of the guerrillas, the horrors of Andersonville, and the assassination of President Lincoln?

Does it not further know that from a party so steeped in treason, blood and savage cruelty, no good can come?

As well might we expect pure, sweet water to flow from a corrupt and bitter fountain?

Then no one need doubt for a moment that the New Departure is a trick—a deception—a fraud.

The surrender of the Rebellion on the field of battle turned out to be so much like a victory in all the leaders going free of punishment, and came so near putting the Democratic party in power, through the subsequent treachery of Andy Johnson, that it is no wonder the unprincipled and corrupt leaders of that party, having failed in every other scheme and effort, should resort to surrender on the political field, hoping by this means to get the reins of power in their hands so as to carry out their nefarious and treasonable designs, in enslaving, dividing and ruining the country.

Politicians and moralists may talk as they please, and plead for amnesty and forgiveness, but so sure as the ocean ebbs and flows—the sun shines by day and the stars by night—so sura as cause produces effect—no country or government is safe while traitors to that country or government live and enjoy the same rights as the patriotic and the true.

The laws of God and man, justice and sound policy, unite in declaring that death or banishment is, and should be the penalty for treason to the country and the Government.

No leading traitor, however humble or penitent, can or should be trusted.

Let the New Departure movement be successful in putting the treacherous leaders of the Democratic party in power, and what can we expect but that they would revive the "Lost cause," divide the Union, and re-establish slavery again.

But the strangest thing in all the history of politics in this or any other country, is to see such a man as Chief-Justice Chase descending from his high and honored position to dabble in politics at all; but stranger and worse still to see him give countenance and encouragement to so treasonable and base a trick as the "New Departure," emanating from the source it does.

How is greatness fallen! Alas! how ambition, and the desire for the highest position, make fools of great men, and cause them to do and say things that must "make the angels weep."

Alas! for poor human nature, when men who have once been patriots "tried and true" so apostatize as to get down into the dirt, and embrace treason.

Does any one doubt that Vallandigham was less a traitor to his country than Jeff Davis? Then what is the New Departure, but a trick of treason to accomplish its purposes and compass its ends? To gain the power, and then turn on the great works of patriotism, liberty and progress, and destroy them?

Trust not traitors, if we love our country, and value life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." If the memory of our patriot dead, and their graves that we strew with flowers, are sacred, honored and cherished in our hearts, TRUST NOT TRAITORS!

OUR local Democracy were ineffably consternated by the bad news from New York on Wednesday. It was the knell to all their hopes of coming success. Like the shout that came up from a disenchanted people after the rebellious fire on the flag in April of 1861, that bad news is the signal of prolonged Democratic minority and despair.—Press.

COL. M'CANDLES wouldn't be a Brigadier General, when he might have been of great service to the country in that capacity. The people will not allow him now to be Auditor General, just in order to be of service to himself.

CREDIT OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

As the effort is now being made to put on the market at par Government stock, bearing respectively 5 per cent., and 4½ per cent., and 4 per cent., interest, it is a matter of moment to determine the rates now actually realized on Government securities as indicated by the current market prices. It appears, on careful calculation, that the rate of interest realized on the 30-year Pacific Railroad bonds of 1862 and 1864, and running respectively 21 and 23 years from this time, is almost exactly 5 per cent.—4,98 per cent., in the one case and 5.03 per cent., in the other. It also appears from the market price of the 10-40 5 per cent. bonds of 1864, that the annual rate of interest realized, assuming that they yet have 30 years to run, is 5.19 per cent.

The new 10-year 5 per cent coin, bonds, interest payable quarterly, which are now being put on the market, have certain advantages, certain elements of popularity, which are not afforded by the 10-50 5 per cent. bonds of 1865, to wit: the quarterly payment of interest, its payment by check, and the absolute freedom of these bonds from taxation. There can then be no reason for surprise that these 5 per cent. bonds so readily find a market.

In June, 1869, about two years ago, the rate of interest realized on Government securities, as indicated by the market price, was about 7 4-10ths per cent., instead of from 5 to 5 and a fraction per cent., as now.

Passing by the period of the war, we find the rate realized in the first four months of 1861 (the first year of the war) to have been 8-14 per cent. The average rate realized on Government securities in open market during the year 1860 was, on 5 per cent. stock, 5.02 per cent.; in 1859 it was 4.59 per cent. In 1864 U. S. 6 per cent. stock having 8 years to run sold in open market at an average of 120.27, (or, deducting the accrued interest, at 118.94,) indicating 3.29 per cent., the rate of interest realized. The average rate realized on the U. S. stock sold in 1865, one year later, was 3.21 per cent.

From the above it will be seen that when the United States Government is in its normal condition of prosperity, free from war or the burden of a large debt, such is then its credit that its securities command in the market rates of interest realizing from 3.27 per cent., to about 5.02 per cent.

This presentation, taken in connection with the fact that since the close of the war, and especially since the incoming of the present Administration, the rates at which Government can borrow in open market have gradually and rapidly diminished, assures us in the conviction that if the present policy of the Government continues unchanged, (as is probable,) and if no foreign or domestic trouble of moment intervene, we may be able in a few months, successfully, to place on the market the proposed transfer securities of 4½ and 4 per cent.

TAMMANY riots when the country is at war.

Tammany riots when the country is at peace.

In war and peace this central power of the Democracy shows its total unfitness to rule even their own city.

And yet certain very good people here, who seem to possess exceedingly tender consciences, propose to elect friends of Tammany as rulers over us. We trust the events of Wednesday in New York will induce all intelligent men to rally for the defeat of Democratic candidates here, no matter what may Be their claims to respectability.

Is there any man interested in the welfare or honor of Philadelphia who is willing to see municipal officers of the New York pattern elected to rule over the affairs of this city.—Philadelphia Press.

EVERYWHERE the cry comes up for the overthrow of the Tammany Democracy, and it comes, too, precisely at the time when they were prepared to Tammanyize the whole country; when they were concocting schemes to capture Philadelphia this year, so as to make it an easy conquest in 1872. Now, however that the huge tyrant who has so long lorded it on the Hudson is trembling on his throne, no one will dare to assist him to prolong or to extend his baleful sway.

A REPUBLICAN could not be found among the New York rioters on the 12th inst. Every rioter was a Democrat. So was every rebel during the war.

THE FREE TRADE LEAGUE.

The fervor shown by this organization to make manifest the madness and folly of those who seek to foster our home manufactures and home markets by a judicious protective tariff, is only equaled by that of Peter the Hermit and his deluded followers in their crusade against the defilers of the Holy Land.

The body and soul of it are composed of New York importers and shippers, who are now sending out their emissaries and flooding the Western States especially, with their pernicious doctrines in the hope of evangelizing the already thinned ranks of the adherents to a protective policy. Of course, their business is to carry the products of nations from one to another and interchange them. This is the sum and substance of their living, and upon it they thrive and grow rich. It is to their especial interest that each nation shall produce exclusively, one kind or another of the necessaries of life, and let them interchange from one to the other, thereby obtaining pay for the transportation and profits on the exchange. The production by any people among themselves, of a great proportion of what they need, is a fallacy to which they give no countenance, and is fraught with direful adverse effects upon a wholesome system of political economy, simply, because it furnishes to these shippers but little freight for their ships, and but little trade on which to speculate.

England is farmed to her utmost extent, but her territory is limited, and her agriculture must necessarily be limited. But her population is large, wages are low, and her manufacturing interests are enormous. She aims to manufacture for the world and the world must be tributary to England in the article of food.

The world furnishes no such country as ours for the growth of food, and the object of these shipping gentlemen is to induce the whole American people, if possible, to become farmers, in order that they may carry our agriculture to England, barter if off for her manufactures, and bring them back to us, thus battening upon freights and commissions both ways.

Multitudes of our people, with the same genius for invention—the same practical adaptation of means to an end, the same indomitable energy, enterprise and courage, and with the same generous investment of their capital as has ever characterized the people of the mother country, have succeeded beyond precedent, during the last quarter of a century in building up magnificent industries in our midst, producing very largely of manufactured articles, and so far cut off their importation, and the shipment of produce to pay for them, to the great grief of these patriotic shipping gentlemen. They are troubled amazingly with what has already been done, and vastly more with the prospects of what may yet be done, if this infatuation, as they term it, is not nipped in the bud.

Let American industry fostered by a judicious protective tariff develop in the twenty five years to come as it has in the twenty-five that have just past and we will produce the great bulk of what we need of manufactured articles, and those engaged in manufacturing will consume the greater part of the products of the soil. The farmer will find his market at home and so will the manufacture; and the enormous cost of transportation to and fro across the ocean will be saved to both. We will be a nation complete in ourselves with all the resources required to render us independent of the world, and our diversified industries will draw to us millions from the old world, adding to our population, our wealth and our power.

The continent on which we dwell is full of all the natural resources of climate, soil, minerals, chemicals and products which will most assuredly make us self-supplying and independent; and will any one question the assertion that our highest good as a nation, demands the development of all these multiplied and distinguished resources with which nature has endowed us? Are we forever to be used as the immense store house of nature without a commission? Must our genius, our capital, our skill be held subservient to a policy which robs us of our independence and compels us to bow before the worse than tyranny of other nations so amply protected? Most assuredly if the doctrines of this Free Trade League prevail, and we are denied all protection to our diversified industries, we must, to a great extent, become, as they would have us, an entirely agricultural people, and kept in the poverty which always come to such a people.

Now these remarks are called forth by a boast, recently made by one of the most prominent emissaries of the League that the State of Iowa will hereafter send no one to Congress who is in favor of a protective tariff. And if such things can be said of Iowa, it is reasonable to suppose they can be said of other Western States and it is easy to see the danger upon which we are drifting.

These men are terribly in earnest. They are ready to spend millions of what they have already gained as carriers, to secure their object. They know a protective policy is death to their aspirations, therefore they are determined to be death to a protective policy.

One thing is certain. The Democracy have no conscience upon the subject and will seize the horn of the dilemma, most likely to subserve their ambition for power, and the question must be settled within the ranks of the Republican party. And it must be done by mutual compromises. Mere arbitrary protection for the sake of protection will not do, it would probably be as disastrous to the interests of the country as the most unlimited free trade. We want no chinese wall shutting out all intercourse with the world, neither do we want all our old land marks torn down, and our interests, as a nation, made a prey for the avaricious graspings of gloated and personally interested capitalists. We must have some common ground upon which Pennsylvania, older than the Union itself, and Iowa, the child of the last quarter of a century, can stand shoulder to shoulder in the coming conflict of the national Republican party against the one common enemy. Some of us will not get as much protection as we want; some of us will get more than we think expedient or desirable, but with a higher ambition than mere sectional aggrandizement, our aim and endeavor should be the promotion of the greatest good to the whole country.

THE NEW DEPARTURE vs. THE OLD.

In the history of this country it is not the strangest fact that the Constitutional opinions of the leaders of the Democratic party in the South underwent, in the course of a few years, an entire change, from the widest latitudinarianism to the most rigid, strict construction.

In view of the recent developments and the "New Departure," it may not be uninteresting to the reader to notice the contrast between the former views of the "nullifiers" of the State of South Carolina, and their state rights doctrines of a subsequent period.

From a reply to a certain series of "radical essays" published in the State of Georgia in 1821, is the following extract ascribed to the pen of Mr. M'Duffee, of South Carolina:

"What security, then, did the convention, or in other words, the people of the United States provide to restrain their functionaries from usurping powers not delegated, and from abusing those with which they are really invested? The Constitution will tell you that it is the real security they have provided.

"It is the responsibility of the officers of the General Government, not to the State authorities, but to themselves, the people. This, and this only, is the great conservative principle, which lies at the foundation of our political institutions, and sustains the great and glorious fabric of our liberty. This great truth ought to be kept in constant and lively remembrance by every American.

"The States, as political bodies, have no original, inherent rights. That they have such rights is a false, dangerous and anti-republican assumption, which lurks at the bottom of all the reasonings in favor of State Rights."

This "New Departure" is not the only instance of a total revolution of opinion in the history of our public men, but there is a difference in this: that while in the past the change has been gradual and brought about by successive steps, this later movement of a portion of the Democratic party has caused surprise and consternation in their own ranks, and virtually acknowledges to the whole world either one of two things: that they have been insincere in their professions and principles in the past, or are so now. With what a sense of deep humiliation must they regard their past record or their present course!

Their object is too evident—their own greed and ambition has betrayed them. Hunger for office, with a determination to rule or ruin, has led them to commit this step, which of all others exhibits their weakness.

KU KLUX.

A prominent U. S. Senator at present residing in Washington, has just received the following letter from a very reliable citizen of North Carolina.

DEAR SIR:—

I have the honor to make the following statement as to the condition of affairs where I have had an opportunity of observing. There is no exaggeration in any statement I make, nor is there any statement very astonishing. I have a desire to speak of things as I find them.

I am reliably informed that last week the Ku Klux Klans rode through the town of Graham, county seat of Alamance, the same where Wyatt Outlow was hung last year, making no demonstration, nor has any one thus far turned up missing. I have not heard of an outrage in Caswell or Alamance within a month. This leads me to think that there is no need for any murdering or whipping just now. The colored people have not recovered from the terrorism put over them last summer; and how well that terrorism has, and does now succeed in keeping the colored and poor white people, who vote the Republican ticket, in subjection, no one but an eye witness can tell.

I walked from the company shops to Yanceyville unarmed; because it is unsafe for a man alone to carry arms, especially one well known as I am by the "brotherhood" on the road. I met no less than twenty colored men, and out of the twenty, it was a matter of impossibility to get more than three to talk. I broached the situation on politics, but indeed they were afraid to open their mouths. I would tell them I was colored, that I was a Republican, and that I was there for there good. I gave them League and H. O. A. signs, but all to no purpose. It does seem strange, yet I must say it, for I believe it, that the colored people are cowed down to a greater extent now in this county, as well as Alamance and Orange, than they were during the worst days of Slavery or the darkest hours during the war.

The "Klans" remain in statu quo and if I were officially notified to leave, I don't hesitate to say that I would leave forthwith. The work—I mean the secret part of it—that was exposed last winter at the trial in Raleigh, has been altered, whether through the whole South or not I cannot say, but certainly it has been in North Carolina. There were thousands of them at Charlotte on Saturday, to take part in the demonstrations in honor of the anniversary of the "Mecklenburg declaration of Independence;" there were some three hundred firemen from Chester and Winnsboro S. C., and at least a thousand spectators from this State outside of Charlotte. There were several private meetings in private portions of the place, and from all appearances there is but little doubt that the "Empire" did some work on this occasion. There was another thing which convinced me further, which was this; out of all the speakers, but one made a partizan or bitter speech; but he being a South Carolinian, of course, was excused. There was no disrespectful language used against the Government or the President. I looked upon it that this "quiet way" was the orders of the "Empire," and done to avoid suspicion.

I dont believe, honestly, that every Democrat in North Carolina is a member of either branch of the order, but I do believe, and am more convinced of it day by day, that if there are some who do not belong to it, they will not expose it, nor would they sympathize, with any intended victims. In short, the spmpathy for their bloody work, on the part of the whites, seems to be general.

The election in Chatham, Orange, Alamance, Cherelem or Caswell, at this period would simply be a farce. The colored people are under a complete reign of terror. I don't believe, at present that we can poll one half our colored vote in one half of the counties west of Raleigh, with the exception of Rockingham, Mecklenburg, Romor, Cerberry, and perhaps Guilford counties.

In many of these counties, white people who are opposed to the convention, dare not own it, and unless some protection is promised them, of course, they dare not go to the polls and vote that way. The "Empire" has decreed for a convention, and they intend to be riding regularly five or six nights immediate preceding the day for voting.

I am doing the best I can, yet it is a hard road to travel I assure you. The colored people say that they dare not take anything like a permanent stand for fear of being seized by the K. K. K. The poor whites who vote with us are equally as bad.

There having been no murders, save one, in this State for some time, I suppose that many think the organization disbanded, but this is not the case. When they can accomplish their hellish and diabolical purposes and desires without shedding blood, they are not particularly anxious to do so.

While in Graham I had a conversation with a leading white citizen who said to me, that when a negro becomes "beside himself,' impudent, impertinent or saucy they (meaning the whites) could easily reduce him (the negro) to his naturals State, by pointing to him the tree, upon which Wyatt Outlow was hung.

For the REPUBLICAN.

COL. W. W. BROWN.—Sir:—As the time is fast approaching when the Republican party will be called upon to place in nomination candidates for the several elective offices, we the undersigned Republican citizens of Unionville and vicinity, rejoicing in our Republican principles, and wishing to see them honestly represented in our Legislative Halls, and having confidence in you, and believing you to be the proper man to represent Centre county, and this the proper method to inform you of our wishes, do earnestly request you to permit your fellow citizens to announce you as a candidate for the Legislature at the next October election, satisfied that your nomination would meet the wishes of a large majority of the Republican party of Centre county. Without flattery or fulsome praise, vigilance and untiring devotion to our principles and the ability with which you advocated them, have gained for yourself the confidence and esteem of the working voters of the county who wish to give "honor to whom honor is due."

Will you, therefore, give us your consent to place you in nomination and secure your triumphant election to the Legislature?

Your Fellow-citizens,

GEO. ALEXANDER,
J. M. BLAIR,
E. A. RUSSELL,
ISREAL HOOVER,
JOHN H. SHIPLEY,
NATHAN HURLEY,
A. W. RUSSELL,
JOHN ALEXANDER.

A MEAN AND COWARDLY SENTIMENT.

The Evening Post, which has professed to be on the side of religious freedom expresses the hope that the Orangemen will not march in procession next year. We call this a mean and cowardly sentiment, unworthy of an American freeman. It is for the Orangemen themselves to determine when they will march and when they will not, so long as they do not violate the law.

What has the Evening Post to do with their marching more than they have to do with the writing of articles on Free Trade by the editors of the Post?

Does not the Evening Post yet comprehend that this is a free country—as free for processions as for writing and for publishing articles?

A liberty which people cannot practically enjoy—a right to march in procession which cannot be carried into execution—is a vain and empty sound signifying nothing.

NEVER before has the Republican party assumed a nobler aspect than it does to-day. The champion of constitutional freedom, it is also the guardian of the rights of person and of property. No citizen who desires to worship God safely "under his own vine and fig tree, with none to molest and make him afraid;" who expects to enjoy the wages of his labor, or to possess in peace the property earned by honest enterprise, will support a party controlled by the men who began the rebellion; who instigate and carry on the murders in in the South; and who encouraged and sought to protect the marauders in New York.—Press.

The Democrats are going to the right sort of school at last. They are trying to learn to be good Republicans, but they are simply in the rudiments; indeed, in the alphabet of tutelage. When they have labored long enough to prove that they are sincere in the effort at self-enlightenment; when they have passed out of the freshman class into the higher branches and have graduated as true Republicans, the experiment of trusting them with the administration of government—city, State, and National—may be made without danger.

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

SAD VENTURES.

I stood and watched my ships go out.
Each one by one unmooring free,
What time the quiet harbor filled,
With flood-tide from the sea.

The first that sailed, her name was Joy,
She spread a smooth, white, shining sail,
And eastward drove with bending spars,
Before the sighing gale.

Another sailed, her name was Hope,
No cargo in her hold she bore;
Thinking to find in western lands,
Of merchandise a store.

The next that sailed, her name was Love,
She showed a red flag at her mast;
A flag as red as blood she showed,
And she sped south right fast.

The last that sailed, her name was Faith,
Slowly she took her passage north,
Tacked and lay to; at last she steered
A straight course for the north.

My gallant ships they sailed away,
Over the shimmering summer sea;
I stood at watch for many a day—
But one came back to me.

For Joy was caught by Pirate Pain;
Hope ran upon a hidden reef,
And Love took fire and foundered fast,
In whelming seas of grief.

Faith came at last, storm-beat and torn,
She recompensed me all my loss;
For as a cargo safe she brought,
A crown linked to a cross.

Annual School Report of Centre County, for the School Year Ending June 5, 1871.

In submitting this report of the transactions of the past year I shall endeav. or to confine myself to a strict business conciseness, for in a report so brief it is impossible to more than mention the numerous items which the work of the schools involves, without attempting to discuss them.

As an indication of progress it affords me pleasure to state that more new school buildings were erected in the county this year than during any previous year—18 in all; many of these are very fine edifices, but want of space here forbids a minute description; all are large, well-arranged, and well-ventilated, properly located, and with sufficient play grounds. Those built at Aaronsburg, Loydsville and Unionville, are particularly good, and are adapted not only to the present, but the future wants of the localities in which they are situated. All have suitable furniture, save the one in Union district. Besides these, ten old buildings were re-furnished, making twenty-seven (27) furnished during the year. One hundred and seventy-three (173) are now, in all, thus supplied.

Apparatus.—Eighteen schools were supplied during the year. 114 are now supplied with outline maps, and 100 with artificial globes.

Blackboards.—The extent of blackboard surface in our school-rooms is being increased. In all save some of the oldest ones, one entire side of the room is given to this purpose. In both rooms of the new building lately erected at Loydsville, the blackboards surround the room, excepting only the windows and doors. This is the first house in the county thus furnished, but I trust not the last.

Grounds.—In the improvement of school grounds I cannot report the progress I would desire. Well fenced yards, wild trees, shrubbery and flowers, are rare exceptions; four only were thus improved during the year.

SCHOOLS.

The number of schools is still on the increase. Last year I reported 198; this year there are 204, of which 59 are graded, and 190 are tolerably well classified.

GRADED SCHOOLS.—Although I think we compare favorably with other rural districts of the State, in this particular—29 per cent of all the schools in the county being partially graded—yet I can see no reason why a system of grading cannot be adopted in every township in the county; and until this is done the schools will remain defective. Every village and densely populated locality of sixty pupils should establish two grades, either in one building with two rooms, or in two separate school buildings. Wherever there are already two school houses, within convenient distance, the schools should be divided, sending the smaller children to one, and the more advanced to the other. The increased efficiency of the schools would more than compensate for the little increase in the distance to the school. It would not only render the schools cheaper and more effective, but also provide higher instruction for all classes, for the Grammar schools would furnish material which would, of its own accord, build up the requisite number of high schools—where not already established—to bring such higher instruction within the reach of all. Whenever this system has been tried and fully tested it has proved successful, and nowhere do we see the old system of mixed schools being replaced. Each grade should have its prescribed course of study, which all should be obliged to understand thoroughly before being promoted to the next higher one.

I would earnestly call the attention of our directors to a somewhat prevalent error:

The tendency to promote pupils from one grade to another whenever the lower grades become over crowded, without proper regard to their fitness for promotion—and consequently, admitting pupils, not sufficiently advanced, into the High school. Where three grades (or more) are established—Primary, Grammer, and High schools—the grade of the High schools should be such as to embrace a course of studies equal to the Academy.

The schools at Snow Shoe will be graded by the opening of the next term, a new building for this purpose being in course of erection there now. The schools of Julian Furnace, Zion, Farmer's Mills, and Penn Hall, should each consist of two departments.

CLASSIFICATION.—Where the schools are properly graded the board of directors prescribes a course of study for each grade, but in the 145 ungraded schools the county, this important duty is generally left in the hands of the teachers; and here I would remark that a very material change has taken place within the last few years, in this important part of the work; the prejudices of parents against new measures—that great bar to advancement—has been to a great extent overcome, the teachers, in their own judgment, classifying their pupils according to fitness alone, for the different branches of study.

METHODS OF INSTRUCTION.—No one was licensed to teach who had not studied at least one modern work on teaching, and could pass a satisfactory examination on the important modes of teaching.

This course, which has been followed for the last few years, has resulted in a complete reform in teaching.

SCHOOL ETIQUETTE.—I have observed much improvement in this direction, having noticed less of that roughness and unfeelingness which heretofore characterized the public schools in some localities.

The heart as well as the head must be educated; and it is as much the teacher's duty to inculcate good manners and politeness, based on the principle of the "Golden Rule," as to teach reading or spelling. Many of the school rooms are very tastefully decorated with mottoes, pictures, flowers, etc., and are scrupulously clean and tidy. I noticed also that nearly all the school rooms were furnished with window papers or curtains. It is to be hoped that those teachers who have not yet caught this spirit will soon see how much they lack. The glowing impressions thus made upon the youthful mind, are fixed so deeply in the soul, that time cannot efface them.

MUSIC.—Vocal music is practiced in almost every school. Its refining and elevating influence entitles it to the attention it receives.

—ATTENDANCE.—It is encouraging to know that the average percentage of attendance is increasing yearly. In a large number of schools the average attendance was over 90 per cent.

MORAL INSTRUCTION.—The Bible was read daily in all our public schools. About 20 opened daily with prayer.

TEXT BOOKS.—We have had no change in books for five years, and then only to secure district uniformity, which, I am happy to state, we now have without an exception.

TEACHERS.

It is a source of gratification to believe that, remote as we are from State Normal Schools, but few counties can boast of teachers more faithful and earnest than are many of ours. There is much more professional reading than formerly, I do not believe there is a single teacher in the county that does not take at least one educational journal. Mental Philosophy has been made a practical study with many of our teachers.

We lost this year two of our most faithful teachers by death,—Samuel R. Breon, of Penn Hall, and Mary A. Weaver of Bellefonte; but while we feel deeply their loss, we have reason to hope, from the christion life they led, that they are now reaping the true teachers' reward. It is to be observed that the number of female teachers has been regularly decreasing for the last five years. The present number of males is 123, females 71. Of these 120 have attended a County Normal School, and 82 have taught over five years. Average age of teachers 25 years. In consequence of the usual scarcity of teachers 48 were employed who had never taught before, and who, for want of skill and experience, rarely gave general satisfaction, thus bringing reproach upon the system, when it was not the system at all, but its local administration, that was in fault.

The building up of a profession is not the work of a day. If we would have all good teachers we must offer such inducements as will enable us to secure and retain them. Intimately associated with this is the item of SALARIES.—The pernicious practice of paying the same wages to all—good, bad, and indifferent—without regard to grade of certificate, is becoming less common. Of the thirty districts in the county, I succeeded in getting eighteen to grade the salaries of their teachers, and to all who gave the schools proper attention it must have been plain that those receiving the highest salaries were by far the cheapest. It is earnestly hoped that by another year every district will adopt this plan.

EXAMINATIONS.—I held the usual number of public examinations—(25) immediately after the close of the County Normal School, and before the opening of the public schools; but finding a deficiency in the number of teachers, ten special examinations were afterwards held, at my office, five of which were private. 200 provisional, and 7 professional certificates were issued. 18 applicants were rejected. The public examinations were attended by 120 directors and 1023 citizens. The written plan was almost invariably followed. The examinations compared very favorably with those of the previous year, the qualifications of teachers being generally higher.

SCHOOL VISITATION.

I commenced this duty immediately after the close of the regular examinations, and continued uninterruptedly (except a week for the County Institute) until about the first of April. 292 visits were made to the schools, every school in the county being visited at least once, except one which was closed ere I could reach it. The number of visits exceeded by 52 those of last year. The time spent in each, varied according to the work to be done—averaging in length about two hours. My object was not to take the teacher's place for the time being, by hearing recitations, but to examine into every department of his work—classification—discipline—methods of instruction, etc., giving as much instruction in the various departments as my limited time allowed, occasionally conducting a class drill for the instruction of the teacher. I invariably left instructions in writing with the teacher—taking a transcript of the same in my note-book. I am becoming more convinced each year of the good that results from these visits; and yet where so much is to be done in so short a time, much of that good is lost. Nothing connected with the schools pays better than a proper, close supervision. District superintendency by competent persons is much needed.—In order to visit all of our 204 schools, allowing but little time for traveling, it is necessary to average three schools per day. It is a mistake to think that the County Superintendent is to take the place of local officers; school visitation is only a fractional part of the many duties devolving upon him, yet were this his only duty, the number of schools is too great for any one person to do justice to all. 170 of my visits were made with directors, to whom, with proper instructions, I committed the further supervision of the schools. 93 directors thus accompanied me, and 228 of the patrons met with me in the schools.

COUNTY INSTITUTE.—Our Twenty-fourth Annual Institute was held in Bellefonte, during holiday week. I put forth every effort to bring out our teachers, and succeeded in securing an attendance of 220 teachers, (an excess of 16 over the number of public schools in the county) with an average attendance of 200 at each of the fourteen sessions. The attendance of directors was larger than at any previous Institute. The only paid instructor from abroad was our Elocutionist.

NORMAL INSTITUTE.—The Fifth Annual session was held at Rebersburg, during the vacation of the public schools, as a temporary means of aiding our teachers in the special preparation needed for the work. About 90 teachers were in attendance.

The work of the year may be summed up as follows:—the erection of 18 new buildings; the furnishing of 27 with suitable furniture, 18 with apparatus, and 48 with out-buildings, the formation of 6 new sub-districts and schools, the grading of 7, the better classification of ungraded schools, better attendance, and some progress in the grading of teachers' salaries.

I labored 304 days in the discharge of official duties, held 30 public examinations, make 292 official visits, taught, ten weeks in the County Normal school, held a County Institute of five days, tended 29 educational meetings, wrote 257 official letters, and traveled 3,036 miles in the discharge of these duties.

I will yet briefly notice a few educational agencies outside of the common school work, which exert a healthful influence on the educational interests of the county. Among these may be named the Pennsylvania Agricultural College, whose Faculty kindly assisted us at our County Institute, as did also, the Principals of the different Academies.

The Bellefonte Academy is to be remodeled and enlarged the coming year.—The Penn Hall, and Boalsburg Academies, and the Eden school at Unionville, were attended by quite a number of teachers. It affords me pleasure—and may not be a slight indication of progress—to add that almost every teacher who could leave home, attended some private or normal school during the summer.

About 75 subscription schools were in progress during the summer. Some of these were taught by well qualified teachers, whilst others were comparatively worthless.

District Institutes were held in three districts only.

THE PRESS.—We have five well conducted weekly newspapers published in the county, all of which are favorable to the cause of education; also one religious monthly paper, (published under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., of Bellefonte,) whose columns are open to educational intelligence.

CENTRE COUNTY SABBATH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.—The Sabbath-school work as organized at present, is exerting a vast influence for good. One Annual Convention is held, with frequent district institutes in various parts of the county.

CLERGY.—Quite a number of ministers attended our last County Institute, some of them kindly assisting us during the week. They will ever find a hearty welcome, not only at examinations and institutes, but in the school-room, where words of cheer are so much appreciated.

It is to be hoped that the obstacles implied in the above report, and which so seriously retard the work, will receive from directors the consideration they merit.

Dismal Swamp.

The large morass known as Dismal Swamp, which extends from the vicinity of Norfolk, Va., to the North-eastern part of North Carolina, is over eighteen miles long, and is about twenty miles broad. Its soil consists of black vegetable matter, saturated with water to the depth of fifteen feet, which yields beneath the tread. Several small streams flow through the swamp, and the juniper-trees which abound in all parts impart to its water a dark color, giving it a hue resembling brandy. This water is highly esteemed by shippers, as it will keep for any length of time without spoiling. All vessels sailing from Norfolk, provide themselves with swamp water in preference to any other. In the days when the old line-of-battle-ship, Pennsylvania, lay at the Port-mouth Navy Yard, there was a tank of this water on board, which was perfectly sweet, although it had been there some twenty-five or thirty years. In the centre of the swamp is a beautiful sheet of water known as Lake Drummond, extending four miles in one direction, and five in another, with a maximum depth in the centre of sixteen feet. All the waters of the swamp are higher than the level of the sea, those of Lake Drummond being fully twenty-one feet higher. The swamp is traversed by what is now one of the largest canals in the country, being navigated daily by a line of steamboats connecting Norfolk with Elizabeth City, N. C. This canal, which is fed by Lake Drummond, is the great outlet for Eastern North Carolina, and was commenced soon after the Revolution by a member of the Jones Family. That gentleman cut a ditch into the swamp for the purpose of procuring the juniper and cypress which grow there in great profusion. He Subsequently interested the business men of Norfolk in the project of opening water communication between Chesapeake Bay and North Carolina, and the result was the cutting of the canal.

Before the war, the manufacture of shingles was extensively carried on in the swamp, but the chief industry now is getting out juniper logs for shipment to the North, where they are manufactured into white cedar-ware, and the cutting of railroad ties for home consumption. The timber is gotten out by negroes altogether, who live in camps in the woods. They fell the trees generally with saws, and in the same manner cut them into proper lengths for shipping.—The negroes living in the swamp, appear strong, and healthy, and say it is only when they go out into the higher lands that they get sick. It would not, however be a safe experiment for most white people to attempt to live in the swamp except in the winter time.

4TH OF JULY.—Our legal friend J. B. Spiese hands us the following, which may not be out of place at this particular time. Patriots, read and reflect:

Address to the American Flag.

Studdid up whilst settin onto the Piazzy fence, watchin of the American Flag wavin from the Liberty Poal, and techin off of fire crackers now and then, on the forth of July.

To thee, Of mity flag! O beoteous peace of cioth!
Made of red and white and blue stripes,
And stars painted on both sides—
All hale! Again, I'm sittin in thy umbrajus
Shadder, and admirin thy granjer,
And suckin into my chist the gentle zeffers
That are holdin you out well ni onto
Strate. Great flag, when I shet
Mi ize and look at yer, and think
How as when you was leetle, and not much
Bigger than a peese of cloth, and
Almost as tender as a sheet of paper, you
Was karried all thru the revolution—
Ary war, and hev sum fou times sense
Held up yer hed with difficulty, and
How tremenjus yu are now, I feel
Jest as if I shud bust and fil all round, and want
Tu git down off the fense, and git shot,
Or stabbed, or hit on the hed with a stick
Uv wood, or hung for my kuntry.

Prodigious banner! Wouldn't I smile to see
A Chinaman, or a small unnatcheralized
Furriner undertake to pull yu down!
If a Chinaman, would fix him, and kut
Of his kew, and bear it off in triumf:
Before I'd see a split torn in ye or the sakrilejus
Hands of a fo kuttin yu into bullit
Patchin, I'd brace my back agin a waul (or a House, or a fence, or a board, as it mite be),
And fite, and strike, and scratch, and
Kick, and bite, and tare my klose, and
Loose mi hat, and git hit in the I, and
On mi leg, and akrost the smaul of
Mi bak, or stummick and faul down and get up
Agin, and kontinn the struggle for heff or Three-quarters of an hour, or until I got Severely wounded.

Terrific emblem! How prowd you look,
And how almity sassy you waiy round,
Snappin and cracken, and skeerin of horses;
I spose yure almost tarrin to git into a
Fite with sumbody, and satisfy yer kar—
Niverous disposition by eatin up a whole nashun
Of Coreans, or somebody else!

Great flag! I don't know which makes me feel the
Most patriotic—yu or forth of July:
Yu aint made of the same kind of stuff, altho
Yu are about the same age, and are both,
Sublime, and terrible to kontemplate.

But I must Klose and waiv my last adew.
However tryin to my feelins tt may be,
And get down of the fense, for already the
Sharp pints of the pickets begin to stick
Me, and make me skringe and hitch about, and
Threaten to tare my klose and maik me holler.

CASH VALUE OF LABORING MEN.

It is often remarked by persons who do not possess any property, and who depend upon their daily labor for the support of themselves and families, that they are "worth nothing" financially speaking. This is language generally indulged in by business men. Let us examine the question financially and see if their assertions are correct.

Last year the price of common labor averaged $1,60 per day. Admitting that a laborer received $1,50 per day and that it required the whole of that sum to support his family, nevertheless we contend that the laborer is worth in cash to his family the sum of $8,-989.

The amount he would receive for one year's labor at $1.50 per day would be $475,60, which amount would be interest at six per cent on $7,089, which latter sum would be the cash value of the laboring man to his family.

The cash value of the laboring man to the community is much more than the above named sum, as labor is the only true wealth to any country; without labor our forges, furnaces, woolen-mills, and indeed manufactories of all kinds would cease to be. The music of the loom and shuttle would be silenced forever. Our national and other banks would close, and our most enterprising merchants would take down their signs. Without labor the world would recede, and the bat and owl would occupy the crimson chambers of the would be business man.

Let the laboring men of the United States realize their true position. Let them reflect that labor is honorable, that labor is wealth. Let them remember that they are a power in the State; to them this great Government is indebted for all it possesses of liberty, glory and grandeur.

Let them not only reflect that labor is honorable; but let those who look down on the humble laborer and mechanic reflect for a moment before they speak in terms of disparagement of the "hewers of wood and drawers of water." The custom is too prevalent in the community of making remarks in a sneering manner of the great industrial class of our people, leading youths among us used to think that honest industry is not honorable, be what it may, that time has passed.

Honest, industreous mechanics and laborers are the wealth of the State, and until they are encouraged and fostered, our people will never be prosperous. It is not only the cash value by which he enriches the place of his residence, but he adds by his labor to his material wealth. No country or nation that commands the respect of the world, but what that respect was gained through the skill of her mechanical population. Then let all classes, especially the rich, respect and inculcate their children with the true theory of life that labor is honorable, and if in after life misfortune should overtake them, willing hands will be put forth to earn their support.

AT last a monument is to be erected over the grave of the late Thaddeus Stevens in Shreiner's Cemetery, at Lancaster. The Express relates in this connection an anecdote of the "Old Commoner" never before published. When Mr. Stevens discovered that there was a clause in the charters of the several Cemeteries of Lancaster prohibiting the burial of any but white persons in them he declined to take any of the lots, and went to Shreiner's Cemetery, where no such prohibition existed. He purchased two adjoining lots. One of his friends, in view of the fact that there was no one but himself to be buried in them, asked him why he secured so much ground. "Oh, well," he replied in his inimitable humorous way, "some poor devil may come along one of these days, and will have no place to go. He can turn in with me."

"WHY," said Miss Anna Dickinson, on one occasion, stepping forward to the footlights and commencing a lecture with a lofty flight of eloquence. "Why was I born?" She paused, and a thrill ran through the audience. Again the rich tones of the winsome woman rolled over the expectant people as she repeated the question.—"Why was I born?" And again she paused, that the due impression might be made upon her hearers before she answered her own question. "Why was I born?" She asked once more in touching and almost painful accents, when a wicked boy in the gallery shouted "I give it up."

AMONG THE INDIANS.—Lieut. Herndon tells us that no tribes of aboriginees are found in the deepest forests of South America, from the Andes to the Atlantic coast, that do not have and use Doct. Ayer's medicines and Lowell cottons. "TERMONT," "SUFFOLK," "BOOTT," are seen stamped in large red and blue letters upon their garments, while Ayer's Pills and Cherry Pectoral are among the treasures of their habitations. Their native soil furnishes them all their food and most of their remedies, but they suffer from some afflictions which must have the interposition of higher skill. [Sentinel, Liberty, Va.

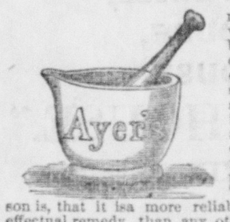
Miscellaneous.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
For all the the Purpose of a Laxative medicine.



Perhaps no one medicine is sounIversally required by everybody a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use in every county and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill.—The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them: those who have not, knows that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterous drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions from the stomach' bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or GREEN SICKNESS, BILLIOUS COLIC and BILLIOUS FEVERS, they should be judiciously taken for each case to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back or Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL take one or two PILLS to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me, by him, about eight weeks after the accident:

NEW YORK, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder. I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal: I tried Maggiel's Salve and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true and anybody can see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 3d Avenue.

J. HARDY, 119 Greeck St.

EXTRACTS FROM VARIOUS LETTERS.

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvellous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your Pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured.'

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears, and the noise has left."

"Send me two boxes, I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar, your price is 25 cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your Pills."

"Send me five boxes of your Pills by return mail."

I Have over 200 such Testimonials as these, but want of space compels me to conclude.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS,

And all erruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL,

DAVID STANTON,

OF BEAVER COUNTY.

FOR SURNEYOR GENERAL,

ROBERT B. BEATH,

OF SCHUYLKILL COUNTY.

THE NECESSITY OF THE ENFORCEMENT BILL AND THE KLU KLUX OUTRAGES.

To those who have witnessed the Ku Klux outrages in the South, who know the character and the spirit of the lawless men forming the Ku Klux societies, who, in order to remedy their supposed and absurd grievances, covertly and openly commit the most infamous crimes on defenceless loyalists and negroes. We need not address ourselves in vindication of the Ku Klux bill, as with them it is a life question.

To those, however, within the ranks of the Republican party, who are troubled with constitutional scruples, uniformally, on account of their conservative nature, attack measures of the Government, which, from the very danger which is involved to the State, require radical means for their enforcement. A few words in explanation of the complaints of these outlaws and the remedies they resort to, may quiet the constitutional consciences of our conservative friends.

The so styled Southerners, or former rebels, complain that their best men, or leaders, are disfranchised, and that they have no voice in the administration of affairs in the South (the voice perhaps, of Jeff Davis, or the doleful voice coming from the "Tombs," both of whom have done so much to command them to the mercy of Congress) further, they argue that being excluded from the affairs of Government, they cannot be held responsible for the prsent chaotic condition of things in the South, but that the fault lies with those to whom the reins of government have been entrusted. This, their complaint, now follows their remedy:

Our Government being more humane than others, inflicted but light penalties upon those Southern rebellious leaders for having gone into the rebellion. In other countries death would have been their punishment—in this, they were merely disfranchised. Have they in exchange for this humane treatment on the part of our Government, given us any assurance of good will, any guarantees of safety for the future, do they seek to remedy their self imposed wrongs in a constitutional manner? No! Instead of abiding by the issue, they appeal to the passion and prejudices of the masses, seek to stir up the embers of the lost cause, talk of repudiation, tolerate murder and arson for mere differences of political opinion, encourage marauders to sweep over the country in order to intimidate and strike terror into the hearts of the loyal masses.

Where such a condition of things exists, such an utter disregard to law and order, it must ultimate in anarchy unless repressed by vigorous and determined measures.

What are the characteristics of these Southern leaders, through whom the Southern people have been mislead and induced to engage in such Ku Klux outrages? They are intolerant; any expressions of opinions at variance with those held by them, is crushed by violence; force is employed to oppose the extension of education to the black man, the life and property of the loyalist is placed in jeopardy, and all their acts tend to retard the prosperity and welfare of the whole country by keeping the public mind in a constant state of agitation and fear. Any act of Congress, therefore, tending to crush such a violent and rebellious spirit to law and order, is not alone justifiable from the very necessity of the case, but becomes imperative when we take into consideration the well-being of the nation, which alone would dictate such an enforcement bill to every just and liberal minded man. Moreover, Congress has found ample powers in the amendments to the constitution to enact such a bill.

THE women took active part in the riot in New York on Wednesday, and are described by eye-witnesses as being more inufriated than the men. A woman fired the first shot on the Grand Opera House, and a woman was the first to fall a victim to the first charge of the police. They hounded on the men, shrieked wild curses, and were in every respect on a par with the fighting women of the Paris Commune.

IT was a good thing of the New York Herald to revive the direful warning of 1863, when the Democracy let loose its wild beasts upon the helpless negro; and not less fitting was its comparison between the fiends who set fire to Paris a few weeks ago and the wicked men whose passions were organized to shoot down the Protestants on Wednesday last. History repeats itself for the benefit of mankind.

For the REPUBLICAN.

KANSAS—HER SOIL, CLIMATE &c.

The lecture of J. I. Moore, Esq., of Washington City, at Bush's Hall on last Monday night was full of interesting facts. What follows is but an imperfect digest of a few of them: First he placed Kansas at the very head of all the newStates or territories, especially taking its climate, and unsurpassed fertility of her soil as the bases of comparison.

Her average crop of wheat for the last seven years has been 33 bushels to the acre, this year it will be forty, the average corn crops, seventy five; with vegetables too abundant for calculation. The fact that she was able to carry off the prize at Pomological Exhibition held in Philadelphia last year, where all the States were represented, shows that she has no parallel for fruit. The inexaustable beds of lime stone and coal that crop out along all her streams is an everlasting guarentee that her soil never can become exausted. The facility with which farmes are made the manner of fensing the rapid growth of the osage orang hedge, the general use of the wire fence; the cheapness of pine lumber added to the great ease with which the lands were cultivated with all the late improved machienery, is one of the sequeals to her rappid growth in population and wealth.

As evidence that the picture of her natural advantages were not over drawn he gave us the history of Leavenworth city, which dates her real existance from the fall of 1866, at which time title was acquired to the first foot of land in Leavenworth County. The U. S., census of 1870 showes at that time a population of seventeen thousand eigh hundred, and to day it must at least be 20,000. At this hour she is justly proud of her twenty three church buildings, one of them consumeing in the construction of its walls two and one half millions of brick, and said to be ornamented by the best fresco paintings on the continant, her four public school houses—each one as large as the Bush House in this city—two brick market houses; and a better more fashionable theater than can this day be found in the city of Washington; her street well paved and bright with gas manufactured from coal taken from shafts within her coperate limits; the center of six railroads which daily pore into her lap the trade of a vast country East and West. And as though she had just commenced her career, she is now constructing a bridge across the Missouri river: Railroad and carriage bridges—at a cost of $900,000 to say nothing of her seven newspapers, five of which are dailies. And this Leavenworth City is but a sample of several young cities in the State; Lawrence with her 8,300 population in June 1870, is a bright little queen of the West; Atchinson with her 7,500 population of live men, is a good glace for strangers to be taken in; Fort Scott, Humbolt, Topeka, Emporia, Manhattan and Junction City, all larger towns than your own beautiful Bellefonte, and none of them older than the youngest boy which this day will assend the hill to your academy, certainly speakes volumns for this infant State. If Kansas was not the coming State, wherefore her Railroads. Seven years ago, a railroad car or a bar of railroad iron had never been upon her soil, now there is complete, well stocked and in good running order, 1,530 miles of railroad. Where was the like ever done before, or where will it be done again on this continent, except in Kansas? There it will be, and that by the assistance of the money and brains of Pennsylvania. But a short time ago a company was organized in Leavenworth, with (as I am informed) Tos. Scott, of your State, as president, to build a Narrow Gauge Railroad almost an air line, from that point to Denver City. Will they build it? What is it they will not, and do not do out West?

Kansas is a good State for Pennsylvanians to emigrate to. See what we have made of Alexander M'Donald, two years in Leavenworth, two years in Fort Scott, as a merchant, and money enough made to stay two years in Arkansas and be elected to the U. S. Senate. Alexander Caldwell, of Huntingdon Co., settled in Leavenworth in 1858, without capital, yet, with a clear head and a willing hand, he is now worth one half million of money, and a member of the U. S. Senate. I say to the people of Bellefonte, if you have any polititions here laying around loose, send them to Kansas. If they are Republicans all right, if Democrats, let them pray; and be converted on the way, and they will then be all right. This thing can be done and men live and do well after it. Wm. M. Redden, left Washington just after Gen. Grant took his seat as President. He went because his politics did not accord with the administration; but conviction struck him on the way, or shortly after he got there, for he was elected Prosecuting Attorney for Butler Co., Kansas, last fall, an office worth three thousand a year. The Democrats are very scarce down there in Butler:

From what I have already said, soldiers cannot fail to see that Kansas, of all the States, cannot fail to be the best place for them to locate their warrants or to take homesteads in.

I believe, said he, I promised the Ladies to point out to them the most available place to get good husbands. The census of last year shows that Kansas contains three males for every two females: and the proportion of young men is much greater than in the old States, and there are men of grit, who are not afraid of starving to death in a new country, as evinced from the fact that they are there?

The politics of Kansas areRepublican to the core. Her early struggle for free soil, will not be forgotten by the childern's, childern of this generation; and, as, at the last Presidential election there was two Counties in the State that gave their entire vote for Gen. Grant, and 18,000 majority in the State, we may justly predict that Gen. Grant's majority in '72 will be 25,000. For Kansas, upon whose soil the first blood was shed for freedom in 1855, will never forsake the hero, who, in a halo of Glory, consumated that cause by the capture of Gen. Lee in 1865.

As for Bellefonte, the beautiful city, is certainly well named, for in all my ramblings, even in the Rockey mountains, I have seen no place with purer or brighter water; the permenant and elegant style of your private residences, and the amount of capital now invested in manufacturing Irón, Glass, Lime, &c., impresses a stranger with the fact that you are wealthy and a well established comunity. I predict that you are just now starting on a career that will make Bellefonte, a splendid inland city in ten years: 'Tis the Narrow Gauge Railroad system; and the contemplated increase of your glass factories.

And now, to conclude, I will mention two curiosities which I have met here. One is Mr. Bush, a man of portly form and open, genial countenance and active brain, with energy enough to galvanize the ghost of a town into life. A man who knows how to build and with his partner, M'Clain, to run a hotel, the best in the interior of the State, and build blocks of new building, at the right place—and yet a Democrat.

The other is Col. Brown, with intellect enough to edit two papers and posted in all that purtains to the political, commercial, manufacturing and farming interest of his State, and yet issuing a weekly paper in an old time building on Main St., ('tis true, 'tis a good paper;) when he should be down in one of those splendid business houses, in the block opposite the Bush House, issueing a daily paper sent out on the wings of the wind, each morning—converting, as it goes, the Democracy, from the error of their ways, and healing the nations.

Drunkenness and its Curses—No. 18.

BY REFORMATION.

I heard three young men say, in my presence, that they could drink or let it alone, they always knew when they had enough, and always knew when to stop. I said so often myself, when I was like them, but I came very near not knowing when I had enough or when to stop. Now young men you are in the morning of your youth, should this article come before your eyes, please read it carefully, and call to mind what you said in my presence on the 4th of January, 1871, and then cast your eyes upon that old grey-headed man, now sunk down upon the side walk—unable to rise—you pass him by with indifference—and why—because he is drunk. When he was young like you, perhaps he said the same thing I heard you say. Mark well this day, and should you live to be as the man, now lying on the side-walk, remember what you said on the 4th of January 1871, (Wednesday.)

Reader how often do you hear this said by young men just starting out into the world. Perhaps there are some individuals, who have never in their own persons been sensibly injured by the use of intoxicating liquors, whose own bodily or mental health has never been impaired. But who is there, that has not been injured by the destructive lava in some other way? That man or woman does not live, who can say they are free from the tormenting power of spirituous liquors, though they themselves never, touched, tasted or handled the curse. What person in this enslaved land of intemperance, (the confirmation of same being fully established by the sages of our nation, by a thing called the license law,) can say, that no friend or relation of his has been a drunkard? Now in the language of one who spoke to you many years ago. Will the little gratification that ardent spirits yield, pay you for that load of anguish which you must feel at the sight of intemperance among your own friends, among your kindred, and perhaps in your own family? I think not. Were you to hear that a father or brother had fallen the victim of intemperance, and died a drunkard, what would pay you for the agony of that moment? Would you say, that the license law was a good one, or that whiskey was a good thing? They combined have more than paid me for a father or brother.

And did you reflect upon the real cause, and call to mind that it was ardent spirits which had done it, would you not shudder at the thought of partaking of that which had filled your heart with grief? Could you in the presence of that very friend, who lies stretched cold and stiff in death by whiskey, put the cup to your own mouth, and then offer it to the mourning survivors? Sir, it would be as unnatural as to feast upon the beast that has just drank the blood of your child.

Young man remember what you said in my presence on the 4th of January 1871. "I can drink or I can let it alone, I always know when I have enough—I always know when to stop." And thus do you argue from day to day, until you cease to know when you have enough or to know when to stop. Now young men this is truely very dangerous ground it is the beginning of all drunkards. The moment you clothe yourselves in such an armor, I beseech you to stop, pause, and reflect before you proceed any further under this armor. It is simply the first links of the satanical chain of ever-endless destruction of both your soul and body. And every day you continue under this armor, you but suffer a new link to be added in the satanical chain. And thus do you go on boasting in your own strength, until this chain is completed, and you are bound down in eternal misery.

But again do I hear some one say, there is no danger to me in indulgence. Point to the drunkard, who did not once say so too. Do you possess friends, character, wealth, talents, virtue? So did thousands who are now level with the dust. The enemy with whom you deal spares no age, sex, nor condition. He attacks with equal courage the poor and the rich, the virtuous and the vicious, the learned and the ignorant. The tyrant is inexorable. He is restrained from his prey by no entreaty, by no cry of the wife or mother. He seizes the husband, the father, the son, and the daughter. No elevation of rank, no usefulness of station deters him. He prostrates the eloquent orator, the able statesman, the undaunted hero, and he marches with a fearless front to the very alter, and drags his victim from beneath the very cherubim of the temple. Is there no danger? Ask the miserable victim upon whom the jaws of the monster are immoveably clenched. He will point to his rags, to his worn and haggard countenance, to his emaciated wife and starving children. He will tell you that once he was rich and respected and happy, once his dwelling was the home of plenty, love and joy. But now he is a miserable man, and so wretched, and ghastly, and appalling, that even the dogs on the streets bark at him, as if in scorn. And he will tell you that ardent spirits have done it all. But often did he say when he was a young man, as you young men are now saying, "I can drink or let it alone—I always know when I have enough—I always know when to stop." But alas, where hid he stop? Why yonder is his grave, the drunkards grave. And young man that will be your grave unless you stop now. And will you not do so, will you continue in the downward road to hell?

Let me say then to all, the moderate drinker as well as the drunkard, in one word—Stop. In your downward course there is nothing but ruin, certain, inevitable, present, future, and everlasting. Your condition now differs from that of inhabitants of the lake of misery, only in this, for them there is no hope, for you there is. Then stop. Your reformation will be hailed by your friends as a resurection from the dead. Do you ask me how this can be done? I answer, and from experience too, your abstinence from the cup must be sudden, total, and forever. No gradual, partial, temporary abstinence will do. Resolve not for a month, a year, but for the full remainder of your days. Swear to abstain from everything that will intoxicate as long as eternity shall endure. And I urge you to this by the recollections of what you have suffered. Look upon yourselves, dispised and disgraced—to your wives, withered and sickley, and dying—to your children, fatherless, for their father is a drunkard. Recollect the agonies you have endured to arrive at this state of complicated wretchedness, and let me say to you, Stop, travel no longer on the road that leads you down to the vortex of ruin. Make a sudden, a full pause.

By doing this you will become once more respected and happy. You will redeem yourselves and your families from the drunkard's name, and above all else, you avoid the drunkard's death. Young men say not again, what you said in my presence on the 4th of January 1871. And, oh ye sages of the nation what will we say to you? You clothe, feed, and nourish the great fountain head of intemperance, the great king of tyrants, the license law. And, Oh how long will you continue to be the minions of Satan, in casting souls down to hell? What I have said to the unfortunate drunkard, I now say to you—Stop.

WE ARE PILGRIMS.—We are needy in every condition. We are soldiers, and we need that grace should find us both shield and sword. We are pilgrims, and we need that love should give us both a staff and a guide. We are sailing over the sea of life, and we need that the wind of the Spirit shall fill our sails and that Christ shall be our pilot. There is no figure under which the Christian life can be represented in which our need is not a very conspicuous part of the image. In all aspects we are poor and needy.

CAUTION.—Fruits, whether ripe or unripe, are at this season of the year perfectly tempting to young children. Parents, and other persons having charge of them, cannot exercise too much caution, firmness and judgment, in keeping green fruits out of their reach during the hot weather. Negligence in this matter is often the cause of much sickness among the young.

A good minister in a country village lately prayed fervently for those of his congregation "who were too proud to kneel and too lazy to stand."

IF the cause of death were written upon each coffin lid, what a terrible record would be presented.

Rich is the little child who goes to sleep with a kiss on its lips, and for whose waking a blessing waits.

Never borrow trouble; it will come to your door as fast as you can use it.

The Great Medical Discovery!
Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands
Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY?

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE
FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION.
Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle.

FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

Wednesday Morning, July 19, 1871.

The Turnip Crop.

There is no crop that the farmer can put in the ground which pays him better than the turnip. We are aware that with some persons it is looked upon as of little account; but it has never received the consideration to which it is really entitled; and those who turn-up their noses at it are not genuine farmers.

It is a crop moreover that is put in at a time when the hurrying work of the season is over; and it occupies ground that has already been used for something.

The cultivation also, say of from one to two acres of turnips, involves comparatively little labor. The crop too, is harvested in November, when there is almost no other on the farm to interfere with it.

As to the variety of seed to sow, we believe there is no turnip equal to the purple top. A top-dressing of bone-manure is almost indispensable to an abundant crop.

For an early crop take the Early Flat Dutch and sow broadcast early in July. The Purple Top for the regular farm crop. This should be sowed in drills thirty inches apart, and when the turnips are the size of a hickory nut, thin out to eight or ten inches apart in the row. They seldom fail in affording a satisfactory crop. The crop can be put in the latter part of July or first half of August.

Where land is little short, sow among the corn at the last working. They will not interfere in the least with that crop, generally, and very little when it is harvested.

Be sure always to procure seed from established seed houses of reputation, and use that grown here instead of in Europe, if you wish the best and safest article.—Germantown Telegraph.

Garget In Cows.

N. G. E. writes to the Western Farmer and says: from inquiries made it appears that it is not generally known that saltpetre is a remedy for garget in cows. Now to such as want information on the subject I would say that I have kept cows nearly 40 years and the best and surest remedy for garget that I have found is, when the cow shows signs of garget by giving curdled milk, to pound up a table-spoonful of saltpetre, put it into a quart or two of meal and give it to her to eat. If she should object to eating it, you may mix a little fine salt with it.

But as I consider a preventive better than a remedy, I think every man that keeps cattle and has dry, sandy land, ought to plant and grow the garget root, or as it is more commonly called shoke root. It can be raised in such land with but little trouble, and if fed freely in the spring of the year it will prevent the disease effectually. The roots should be covered in winter with leaves or straw. But every one that feeds it should be careful and not give it to horses, as it was said in the lower part of New Hampshire to be poison to horses. but there is no danger of feeding it too freely to horned cattle or hogs, as it is very beneficial to the health of both.

Lime a Renovator of Soils.

The constant use of a special manure tends to make the land what is called "sick." Thus we hear of land being clover-sick; of land that has been manured with superphosphate, guano or fish, as being burnt, and no longer yielding to the application of more manure. Barn yard manure is not yet in sufficient supply to have produced the same effect or given rise to a similiar complaint, but even when this has been applied in large quantities to the soil, it will be found that something is needed to remedy the lodging of crops from want of stiffness in the stalk or straw. Lime is a remedy in all these cases. When the soil is filled with vegetable matter lime rapidly decomposes it, and not only is it a solvent for this, but for many mineral matters that plants need for food. A limestone soil is as much improved by lime as any other and, needs it equally at stated periods for limestone is not lime in the sense in which agriculturists use the word, and it cannot fill the office of lime until it has been fitted therefor by the operation of the kiln.

To OIL an iron axletree, first wipe clean with a cloth wet with spirits of turpentine, and then apply a few drops of castor oil near the shoulder and end. One tablespoonful is sufficient for the whole. For axletrees on which there is a heavy pressure, it is a good plan to mix with the oil some powdered plumbago or black led.

Do not be always telling what you are going to do. Do something, and that will speak for you.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.
GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.
Sung to the tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now complete connections made,
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedy and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of Spring and Summer clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.
People who travel by other routes, and also peoplewho, instead of travelling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest price.
Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality.

HOME NEWS.

Go to Rankin's Book Store.

WANTED.—Two (2) Harness makers, to work on fine harness. None others need apply. JAS. SCHOFIELD.

LARGE CORN.—Z. S. Welsh, Esq., of Curtin twp., had corn, which, on the 27th of June, was seven feet high—this year's growth. It is Republican corn, and we are satisfied that it is, like the Republican party, hard to beat.

$500.00 PRIZE STORY.—The Little Corporal Magazine offers this sum for a prize story. Those interested can send twelve cents to the publishers, Sewell & Miller, Chicago, Ill., for the August number of the Magazine, which gives all particulars.

ACCIDENT.—Reuben Mulholland, son of Lafayette Mulholland, of this place, had two of his fingers amputated on the 30th ult., in consequence of injuries received from a circular saw at the shingle mill. Dr. Geo. L. Potter performed the operation. The young man is doing well.

S. S. CONVENTION.—Notice is hereby given that the S. S. Convention of Walker, Marion and Howard twps., and Howard Borough, will be held in the church at Hublersburg, on the 29th day of August next, commencing at 10 o'clock precisely. An invitation is extended to all.

SPEER'S WINE.—Speer's Port Grape Wine is the only wine calculated to do good in diseases of the stomach, bowels, livers, and kidneys, such as acidity, dysentery, diarrhœa, incontinence of urine, and general debility. One bottle is sufficient to convince the most sceptical of the great curative powers contained in this wine. Sold by Druggists.

THE RED COLLAR.—Messrs. Shrom & Co., although burned out almost completely, will hang out the New Red Collar—for the old one is burned—near the corner on Allegheny and Bishop streets, next week. New tools, new stock, everything new, yet the old customers are all invited to call and bring a host of new ones with them. The fire made clean work for Shrom & Co.

THANKS.—The following resolution was passed by the Town Council at their meeting on Monday evening last.

Resolved.—That the thanks of the Council be and are hereby tendered to the Hose Company of this Borough, for their faithfulness efficiency and untiring exertions in subduing the conflagration which occurred on the night of the 15th, and for a time threatning the destruction of the central part of our town.

HAWK, HAWK, SPIT, SPIT, BLOW, BLOW and disgust everybody with the offensive odor from your Catarrh, just because some old fogy doctor who has not discovered and will not believe that the world moves, tells you that it cannot be cured. The proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists, or send sixty cents to R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., for it.

NEARLY DROWNED.—John C. Hutt, now a resident of Spring Mills, in this county, was very nearly being drowned on Saturday the 15th inst. He was standing on the "shoot" of the dam fishing, when he slipped and fell into water below, which was about 24 feet deep. The Dr. is a good swimmer, but, getting fast under a log, his skill as a swimmer failed to be of much use to him. He finally extricated himself, and got out without assistance, but pretty nearly exhausted.

THE BIGEST WHEAT.—Jacob Holler, a most excellent farmer, who has resided on the Jacob Shank farm in Howard twp., for the last 17 years, informs us that he found several heads of wheat upon his farm which were all good and well filled; three of the heads contained respectively 95, 100 and 120 grains. The head containing the 120 grains was 6 inches in length. This puts Bald Eagle Valley ahead, and we are confident no Democratic farmer in Pennsvalley, or in Centre county, can beat it.

DROWNED.—Mr. Uriah Folk, was drowned on Sunday the 9th inst., in the dam near Jaynesville, Clearfield Co. Pa. Mr. Folk, in company with five other young men went in to bathe. The supposition of Physicians are that he was attacked with Paralysis. All efforts to rescue him were unavailing, he was in the water some seven hours before his body was recovered. Mr. Folk was a young man of promise, esteemed by all who knew him. He was a member of I. O. O. F., but just merging into manhood and usefulness, suddenly and unexpectedly, death marked him as its victim and he is now numbered with the dead. Truly in the midst of life we are in death. The deceased was in his 23d year.

MATERIAL INTERESTS.—We endeavor from time to time, to notice the material interests of Centre county, and the improvements in and about the County Seat—Bellefonte—and in doing so, wish to do justice to all. There is one manufacturing firm in our immediate neighborhood, which moves along so quietly, and makes so little display, that we were not aware of the immense increase in their products. We refer to the Messrs. Valentine & Milliken, successors of the well-known firm of Valentines & Thomas.

These works, we understand, for the past year, have fully doubled their products. The little furnace, built to make 25 tons of metal per week, has been making from 60 to 65 tons; but last week, under the charge of their efficient founder, Wm. Brown, she fairly surpassed everything in the history of making iron, and produced 71 tons. We make this strong assertion because we believe that this work is not equalled in the world, in the same sized furnace.—We further believe that Wm. Brown, the founder, is not equalled in the United States as a founder and a practical furnace man.

Connected with this furnace, is a forge and rolling mill, in which the greater part of the product of the furnace is converted into the finest quality of iron made in this country. We notice an addition in this department, of a new boiler, and amidst the nine fires, with the hissing of steam and whistling blast, one would almost think himself in Johnstown. We have been informed that they turn out 36 tons of blooms per week.

At these works the stranger will not be attracted by beautiful buildings and outside display; but to the practical iron manufacturer, there are few establishments of more interest. The owners have studied the delivery and handling of their stock in the cheapest manner. All their charcoal is brought to their works by rail. Their stone coal is dropped at their furnace from the same car in which it is loaded at the mines, and cars of the Penna. Railroad Co., are loaded in their rolling mill and forges, and passed, without handling or transshipment, to their destination.

It is a great firm, composed of good men, full of enterprise and energy.—Messrs. Valentine & Milliken have our best wishes for their success, and we have our doubts as to whether we could wish for them a better thing than that they, when they have passed from off the stage of action, may leave a record like that of their illustrious predecessors—Valentines & Thomas.

For the REPUBLICAN.

MESSRS EDITORS:—Could you take a peep, this delightful morn, at our little valley near Unionville, you would be ready to exclaim with me "how beautiful!" No cosly edifices rear their proud heads towards heaven; no gushing fountains cheer the eye; yet, nature in all her grandeur and simplicity has adorned the spot. Mountains (covered with beautiful foliage) surround the vale, whilst the laughing waters of Bald Eagle murmer at their base—these with the smiling cornfields and the sweet notes of the merry songsters, cause us to feel that we would not exchange our home for neath Italian skies or with the Switzer in his Alpine cot.

The husbandmen too are rejoicing over their abundant crops of grain, which are already gathered, and the merry youths are looking forward with pleasure to the time when they can abandon the plough, and the warm hill sides, for a cool shady seat in Eden school which will open its fall session the 7th of August.

Teachers and others will do well to patronize it, as no efforts will be spared to advance all who desire to sip of the sweets of knowledge.

All are requested to make application immediately to Jesse or Edith W. Cleaver, Fleming, Centre Co., Pa.

ATLANTIC CITY.—R. D. Cummings, that prince of landlords and proprietor of the Eagle Hotel, in Philadelphia, has recently rented the Surf House, at Atlantic City, N. J. "The Surf House is nearer the ocean than any other first-class hotel, a fine and unobstructed view of which is afforded from nearly every room in the house. A new front has been erected, and the house is now undergoing thorough repairs—painting, fencing and general refitting in every department, making it one of the finest establishments on the coast. Passenger cars run every thirty minutes from the Surf House along the main avenue to the inlet, where parties can always procure boats for gunning, fishing and sailing excursions. The gunning and fishing are very good, and there is a drive of ten miles on the beach."

Of Mr. R. D. Cummings, as a hotel keeper, we have frequently spoken, and need only add now that we still maintain that in this business he has no superior in the whole country. He is still proprietor of the Eagle Hotel, and most cordially invites his Centre Co., friends to visit him in the city and then take a trip to the Surf House, in Atlantic City. We wish him great success.

THE newspapers and magazines formerly sold by Jas. Welsh, will be delivered promptly upon arrival, by John I. Rankin, who has taken charge of them for the present.

A GREAT FIRE.

BELLEFONTE IN FLAMES.

90,000 DOLLARS WORTH OF PROPERTY CONSUMED IN A FEW HOURS.

On Saturday night last, Bellefonte was visited with one of those terrific fire scenes, which appals the human heart and verily paralyzes a town of the size of ours. About a quarter after 9 o'clock P. M., the alarm of fire was heard on our streets, and in fifteen minutes afterwards the whole town seemed aglow. Four or five stables appeared to have been set on fire at the same time. The fire demon raged with maddened furey, bidding defiance to all efforts to check it in its destructive career. For full two hours the fire raged, until, the dwelling house of our sincere friend, Isaac Miller on Howard street and ten stables between Howard and Allegheny Streets were totally consumed by the devouring element, besides considerable damage done to others.

The fire then seemingly under entire control and the danger about over, many citizens had retired from the scene of conflagration, the firemen remaining, using the hose on the dying embers. Quiet had scarcely been restored until the second alarm of fire was wildly shouted through the streets, where crowds were seen hurrying to the scene of the second conflagration, which succeeding the first so quickly, seemed to strike terror into the hearts of the bravest, and for a time confusion and excitement prevailed. We heard several good honest men exclaiming, "my God are they determined to burn down the town and leave us in ruins! It is certainly the work of an incendiary!" We heard these remarks in sorrow, but all the while thought that it was the REPUBLICAN office the hellfiends were after.

It was but a few minutes from the time the fire was seen to break out from the carpenter shop of Geo. O'Bryan, in the rear of the Post Office building, until the whole block from the REPUBLICAN office on Allegheny street, to Mrs. Boals residence on the corner of the diamond, was enveloped in one furious sheet of flame, leaping wildly into the air until they licked the very heavens.

The flames did their work speedily and thoroughly, as the entire block being frame buildings, (except the old "Armory building") was entirely consumed in about one hour.

The first fire is supposed to have originated in the stables of Rev W. T. Wylie; but those who were first on the ground, think that it broke out simultaneously from three or four of the adjoining stables. In this opinion we join as they were all aflame as quick as a flash of lightning.

The second fire as above stated originated in the carpenter shop of Geo. O'Bryan, in the rear of the post office building on Allegheny street, and was rapidly communicated to the entire block. Both fires were very evidently caused by the fiendish work of an incendiary. We dislike very much to make this charge. It pains us to think that we have men in the town or community sufficiently wicked to perpetrate such deeds; yet we honestly believe that the circumstances of the case justify us in our assertions. Whether the incendiaries were actuated by a spirit of revenge or for the purpose of affecting a robbery in the midst of the excitement, created by their hellish act we cannot and will not say. Let our readers look at the facts and circumstances and then do their own thinking.

The result of this fire suggests action at once on the part of our citizens, in several particulars, which will secure our town against the repetition of another such disaster. And 1st, a sufficient reward should be offered to secure the apprehension of the felons who practice the hellish delight of sacrificing life and property to the torch. 2nd, Our fire department, although as it exists, does good and efficient service and worked like heroes at the fire on Saturday night, wants enlarging and a more thorough organization.

A fire department to be a benefit and efficient, should have in its organization not only our best young, but the very best men of the town, and most thorough and rigid descipline, so that confusion may always be avoided. A fireman should have judgment and never become excited. It is his duty to make this his study. A fire company or department also needs the undivided support of all the citizens of the town. 3d, We want at least three times as much hose as we now have, and another hose carriage. 4th, We want more fire plugs and an improvement in the water pipes. It seems to be the misfortune of our town to be, invariably, without a head of water in time of fire. Where the fault lies we cannot say; but wherever it may be, it should be ferreted out and remedied.

We have a fire company composed of the young men of the town, and they worked like heroes at both fires. We have no fault to find with them; but we must insist upon our position the one company is not sufficient for our town, nor for a disaster or emergency like that of last Saturday night. We hope that the desire to get more hose and the necessary facilities with which to fight fire, will not die out with the smouldering ruins of the Blanchard Block, or of the ten stables; but that our capitalists and property owners will give themselves no rest until everything is done, which can be done to save our town and the property of our citizens from the devouring element. What is a few thousand dollars of insurance, when compared to the risk of life and the loss of property? For no insurance when honestly taken can cover the entire loss, nor even two thirds of it.

Below we give a list of property destroyed by the fire—the owners names and the amount of insurance upon each.

"The" total loss including real and personal property we estimate at from 70 to 90,000 dollars. The total insurance as nearly as we could learn, is $35,686. The second story of the old Armory building was occupied by the Town Council, all the papers were saved. The third story was occupied by our colored masonic brethren as a lodge room, and by Pat McAffrey as a shoe manufactory. We have not learned whether they were insured. The Republican Head Quarters over the office of E. & E. Blanchard were burned of course. We had no insurance; but we have the assurance to say that we will clean out the Democratic head quarters on the second Tuesday of October next, without the use of fire.

The fire was very close to the REPUBLICAN office, nothing but an alley between us and the fire, and for a time it was very warm; but as we are in one of the best protected buildings in the town, our office is safe.

The firemen worked like heroes and were aided by the citizens. Where all did so well, it would be invidious to name a few.

A LIVE MAN FOUND.—If you want to see him go to cheap John's, in the McLain block, opposite Bush House, Bellefonte. His stock consists of Notions, Hosiery, Glassware, Clocks, Boots and Shoes, Cutlery, Accordeons, and a great variety of articles usually sold for house keeping purposes. You can buy as much for $1.00 at his store as you can at any other store in Centre county, for $2.00. To be convinced, call and see him. 1t.

HERE is a capital point, well taken, from the City Item, of the 13th inst.

Massachusetts has seventy thousand Republican majority. There, every right is guaranteed.

New York, with seventy thousand Democratic majority, robs and murders those who exercise one of the commonest rights of citizenship.

But the people of Massachusetts can read and write. The seventy thousand in New York are stolidly ignorant. That makes the difference, and the difference does the business for the metropolis.

DEMOCRACY loves the old amendments to the Constitution as little as the new. The first article of amendment to the Constitution provides: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment to the Constitution as little as the new. The first article of amendment to the Constitution provides: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; of abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition for a redress of grievences."

ONE of the very best and most interesting, wholesome and attractive papers which parents can put into the hands of their children is the YOUNG PEOPLE'S HELPER, published monthly at Rockland Maine, by Z. Pope Vose, at 50 cents a year. Each number contains 16 large pages, and it is, all things considered, the cheapest youth's paper for the price in the country. A splendid list of premiums is offered for obtaining subscribers. Send for a sample copy.

No event of modern times has so thrilled the popular heart as the attack of the Yew York mob upon the Protestant Irishmen last Wednesday. In some respects it resembles the indignation that followed the attack upon the old flag at Fort Sumpter in April of 1861. It is the living and the bloody proof of the danger to free institutions of the controlling party in New York.

For the REPUBLICAN.

PENNSVALLEY VS. THE NEW DEPARTURE.

COL. BROWN:

Dear Sir.—Since I wrote you on June 27th, there seems to be no new political developments over here, no master strokes of policy, nor decisive stands taken by the various ones seeking office. The mystery that enshrouds the workings of Orvis and Meek, still is dark and unexplained. Unless a greater degree of positiveness should characterize their action, I necessarily incline to the belief suggested in my former, that a shrewd game is being played, and that somebody will be tricked. "For ways that are dark, and tricks that are vain, none can excel Orvis and Meek, I dare maintain."

I want to state Colonel, that the Democrats of Pennsvalley, are opposed to the new Departure. They don't accept the 9th resolution, of the platform adopted by our last State convention at Harrisburg. I see in your last issue, that a brother democrat from Gregg, writes you in a manner, concerning the new Departure, which I heartly endorse and which sounds the key note to the true sentiment of Pennsvalley democrats. I tell you, we feel as though we had been dragooned, by ring democracy, that knows nothing but self, long enough, and in the coming campaign we propose to act on principle. Then we want to know where the respective candidates stand on this question. If the ring candidates, (Meek and Orvis) endorse the new Departure theory, we want them to say so definitely, before the meeting of the nominating county convention; as we intend going for principle, rather than for men, in the present campaign. If the democracy of to-day is not the democracy of the past, if it has lost the stamp of Jacksonianism, if all its old landmarks, of the constitution and Union as it was, no interference with the rights of the States by the general government &c., which it has steadily kept in view, and by which it has steadily sailed for the past half century, are to be wholly and totally wiped out and forever obliterated, then what is democracy, and whither are we drifting? If democracy no longer means "white mans government" and the Constitution and Union as it was, but on the contrary, according to the "New Departurists," means the constitution as it is, hence the endorsement of negro suffrage and nigger equality; the right of the general government to impose suffrage upon the States, and thus to interfere with State rights, in short, according to their theory, if it means the acquiescence in, and universal approval of the nefarious doctrines, principles and policy of the Republican party, then will some one show us the destruction between the new departure distinction and the Republicans of to-day. I must confess that I am unable to see it, and I believe that nearly every Pennsvalley democrat sees it about as clearly as I do.

The New Departure, if it means anything, means to the democracy, about face, change tactics, supercede the extremest radicalism, and become the foremost fanatics of the age, usurp authority and wield it regardless of the constitution; in short it means advanced Republicanism. Then if we are to be Republican in principle and policy, why not be Republican in name, and fall in with the Republican party, as already organized, and by so doing we can the more readily and successfully, carry out the doctrines of the new departurists. But as I stated before, Pennsvalley Democracy is opposed to the New Departure, and is equally opposed to any proposed leader of the party in Centre county, who endorses it. Meek at first did denounce it, but soon quieted down on it. Orvis, Meeks right bower in the game, whispers to nobody about it, and says it is only a fudge. Whether a fudge or not, before we support a man for the legislature, we want him to define his position as to the New Departure. If Orvis will come out boldly and denounce the new fangled doctrine, as well as show his true hand in the game, concerning Meek, then Pennsvalley will be disposed to consider his claims much more favorably, than they will otherwise. Col. you will excuse the length of this communication as it has grown longer than intended, but we are in dead earnest about this matter, and hence are apt to lengthen on it.

Yours &c.,

DEMOCRAT FROM POTTER.

PENNSVALLEY, July 14th 1871.

THE following is from the Alabama State Journal:

"Mr. Leslie, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Kentucky, in a speech the other day at Frakfort, said that the three last amendments were forced upon the country by fraud, and that the Democratic party will have them decided unconstitutional at the first opportunity. He also asserted that the Democrats are opposed to educating the negres with any of the common school fund."

Governor Leslie, it is asserted by his friends, represents the National Democratic party. If so, what becomes of the "new departure."

THE Rioters of New York, on Wednesday last, were unmistakably recognized as Democratic repeaters at the polls.

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of James H. Steen, as a most competent and reliable Druggist. He is a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, and thoroughly versed in all the branches of his profession." CHAS. C. THOMPSON.

From John H. Bann, Druggist and Dispensing Chemist, 21st and Ridge Avenue, Philadelphia.

"Mr. James H. Steen I have known for eighteen years. I consider him a thorough and competent Pharmaceutest, and it is with pleasure that I bear testimony to his moral worth as a man. Respectfully &c.,

JOHN H. BANN.

From Dr. David Harlan, Fleet Surgeon E. G. Squadron-

"In March 1864, the office of Surgeon Steward at the Naval Asylum, Philadelphia, became vacant, and after advertising and examination of the numerous candidates and their testimonial, Mr. James H. Steen was selected. The duties of the office embrace those of Steward and Apothecary to the Naval Asylum Hospital, where many sick and wounded were then received from the blockading squadron. The labors of Mr. Steen were very arduous and have always been given in the most prompt and cheerful manner. His accuracy, quickness and neatness in preparing drugs for the patients are equal to those of any apothecary I have known. In every respect the department of Mr. Steen has been in the highest degree satisfactory."

DAVID HARLAN,
Fleet Surgeon.
